In its June - September 2017 issue entitled, “Vulnerabilities and crises: what role for companies?”, the Private Sector & Development review looks at the various different issues related to private sector intervention and investment in fragile countries. As forecasts of the proportion of regions suffering from extreme poverty continue to rise (17% at present versus 50% forecast by 2030), this topic is now more than ever one of Proparco's key focuses.
